NOTE: The state will hold an expired license for two (2) years from the expiration date on the license. If you do not reinstate during this two-year time period your license may no longer be valid, which will result in having to take the licensing course and pass the state licensing exam again. If you live outside the State of New Jersey, you will also need to complete and sign the NJREC Individual Irrevocable Consent to Service of Process – Page 4. Additional documentation may also be required.
